Thinks Relation With Russia to Improve Some

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A further improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations should result from the newly announced plans of President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev to cut back production of nuclear explosives, Washington officials said today.

The hope in government quarters here is that such moves, which have been building up now for several months, will:

—Create a more favorable atmosphere for disarmament negotiations.

—Brighten the prospects for a mutual East-West agreement to bring the nuclear arms race under control.

—Initiate measures to discourage surprise attack.

Disarmament by international agreement, however, will require international inspection arrangements in the Soviet Union as well as in the Western countries, according to long-standing U.S. policy. So far, no breakthrough is in sight on this critical inspection issue.

The production cuts announced by Johnson and Khrushchev Monday, with cooperation from Britain as the other main nuclear power, do not require inspection and so far as is known were decided primarily for internal reasons.

Certainly in the case of the United States, the President made clear that this country no longer needs to produce plutonium and enriched uranium — nuclear weapons materials — at the level of which it is capable. He had decided on the reduction before advising Khrushchev of his intention to make the announcement.

Lawyers Up for Contempt of Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court heard oral arguments today in a case in which two Memphis lawyers were held in contempt of Pulaski Circuit Court. The case was taken under consideration by the high court.

The attorneys, James O. Garner and Bernard M. Rosen, were held in contempt by Circuit Judge Guy Amsler in a trial in which they were representing a Little Rock client in a damage suit.

Amsler said the attorneys referred to the jury being stacked. Each was fined $250. Garner was sentenced to five days in jail and Rosen to 10 days. They spent almost two days in jail before being released on bond for the appeal to the Supreme Court.

Eugene Warren, attorney for Amsler, told the Supreme Court that it is time for the courts to stop "flamboyant statements by lawyers."

He said the statement made about the court "was a most intentional one" and put the court in a precarious predicament.

Edwin Dunaway of Little Rock, attorney for the Memphis lawyers, said "the indiscretion on the part of the attorney falls far short of contempt."

"No one was more surprised than Mr. Rosen when at the end of the damage suit he was informed that he had attacked the integrity of the court," Dunaway said.

The Supreme Court could rule in the case as early as next Monday.

Further improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations should result from plans of President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev to cut back production of nuclear explosives, officials say.

Some members of Congress question Russia's good faith on nuclear cutback. Washington comment tends to split on party lines.

Economic good cheer radiated by President Johnson betokens no early boom. Gains he announced were good but unspectacular.

Talbot Feild Jr. today authorized the Star to announce his candidacy for the House of Representatives. In making his announcement he issued the following statement:

"I consider it a great honor to represent the People of Hempstead County in the General Assembly of our State.

"If re-elected as your Representative I shall continue to represent all the People to the best of my ability.

"The improvement of education, roads and highways, and all state institutions; and the location of a Trade School at Hope and new industries, while assisting the existing ones, are goals to be achieved. I pledge my full cooperation to their successful realization.

Finds Baby Girl Only Hour Old

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — When Mrs. Paul Tucker, a registered nurse, got off duty Monday afternoon she wasn't quite prepared for the surprise in the back seat of her car — a baby girl about one hour old.

The blonde haired infant was taken to the hospital here where Mrs. Tucker works. Doctors said the baby's condition was good.

Fort Smith police had not located the child's mother.

Gunman Robs Camden Grocer

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — A gunman robbed a South Camden grocery of $1,200 today and police sought a 21-year-old ex-convict, Sheriff Grover Linebarrier said.

The grocer, Kow Hop, a Chinese, said the man told him that he would not be taken alive.

Kow Hop said the robber got his weekend receipts.

An Average of 12 of 3,000 Who Clean Windows of Tall Buildings Die Each Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — About 12 of the 3,000 men who clean the gleaming windows of Manhattan's skyline fall to their deaths each year.

And as John Goggin, a fine hand with a squeegee, ate his luncheon plate of corned beef and cabbage, he explained why.

"In most cases they are the result of carelessness. With some people familiarity breeds contempt," he said.

"Height isn't a danger in itself. If you take care, you're safe up there 800 feet above the street as anywhere. It's what's down below that can hurt you."

"It's much harder on the street cleaning windows from ladders. Twice I fell 15 feet off ladders. But I've never fallen from a strap. God be thanked. You only get one mistake with the belt."

The belts are made of linen. Rope cuts, leather rolls, cotton and nylon fray. But linen lasts and its condition is easily checked.

"It is supposed to be Irish linen," said John, who cleaned his first window here — it was 17 stories up — back in 1929, not long after he left a farm in County Cork.

"That was in depression days, and there were more stockbrokers going out the windows than cleaners."

A cleaner handles around 80 windows a day. Goggin, who is 57, has five children — two in college — and two grandchildren. He has been on the job 34½ years. He estimated that in that time he has cleaned about 690,000 windows.

"The trouble is," he said, "that after all those years the same windows still get just as dirty — or more so — as when I began."

His age is no handicap. He still is as agile as when he started, and he goes out the 67th-floor window of the RCA building as unconcerned as some young ex-paratroopers who've worked with him.

"There are 31 men in the union over 65 still working," he said. "They don't want to retire, and I want to keep on myself at least until 65 — with luck, and if the health stays good."

Injuries Fatal to Athlete

OKLAHOMA CITY — Second Lt. Timothy W. Kirby, 22, of San Leandro, Calif., died Sunday in a hospital here from injuries suffered when he parachuted from an Air Force trainer Thursday.

Kirby, an All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football guard, was a graduate of AKR KANSAS State Teachers College. He formerly lived at Jacksonville.

His widow is the former Dorothy Ann Richardson of Clarendon.

Kirby's instructor, 1st Lt. Thomas Michael Griffin, 24, of New Carlisle, Ind., was also killed. Both parachuted from the jet trainer when it became disabled over northern Oklahoma. A stiff wind caught their parachutes as they hit the ground and dragged them through barbed wire fences.

U.S., Soviet Plan to Cut Back Nuclear Production Brings Varied Reactions

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and Soviet announcements of parallel plans to reduce production of nuclear weapons material brought questions from some members of Congress to-day as to how Soviet good faith could be checked.

Comment at the Capitol tended to split on partisan lines.

Republicans said it appeared an informal agreement had been reached lacking provisions for inspection and verification.

Many Democrats approved the decision President Johnson announced Monday in an address to The Associated Press in New York. They stressed belief that it was based on conclusions of American military authorities that the United States no longer needed to add to its stockpile of nuclear weapons material.

The President's action requires no formal approval by Congress but undoubtedly will figure in floor debates later on military policy and budgets.

In disclosing the cutback, Johnson said, "I am happy to say that Chairman Khrushchev has now indicated to me that he intends to make a move in this same direction."

Shortly after Johnson's announcement, the White House disclosed that since last Oct. 10 when the nuclear test-ban treaty became effective, the United States has obtained important information from its underground testing program.

A report to Johnson by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed that the U.S. test program had been more extensive than the 20 underground explosions announced during the last eight months.

"Important information has been obtained on new weapons designs, and weapons effects," they said. "The highest yield nuclear device ever detonated in the continental United States was fired underground at the Nevada test site. Weapons effects tests have been carried out underground and others are being planned and prepared."

Members of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee were briefed on the cutback in nuclear weapons material production in secret Monday. Afterward, Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., who presided at the meeting, said he considered it a "reasonable action." Atomic Energy Commission officials

Holifield said several committee members had become concerned two years ago that the Pentagon was not actually figuring its true requirements for nuclear explosives but simply was asking for all the AEC plants could produce.

Studies were ordered by the committee at that time and Monday's announcement was in line with the results of those inquiries, he said.

However, Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a committee member who sharply criticized the nuclear test ban treaty ratified last year, called the announcement "unilateral disarmament in action."

"It proves we do not even have to go to a negotiating table to lose our shirts," he said. "We can do it by speeches and press releases."

Several Senate members of the committee said they were told at the briefing that the reduction was in line with a downward revision of military needs and that they had no particular reason to question this.

Faubus to Tell Political Plans on Wednesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today scheduled a news conference for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday and said he expects to announce his political plans at that time.

The governor put it this way at a news conference:

"I hope to have a statement on my plans. If I don't I'll give you something else and you can come back later for my announcement."

Faubus has several times indicated a date for his announcements and then postponed it for one reason or another.

He is expected to follow through this time, however, because only one week remains before the closing of the Democratic primary ticket.

Faubus plans to leave later Wednesday for North Arkansas, where he will dedicate a scenic road at Cotter. He said he plans to be in North Arkansas until Sunday.

The governor was in high spirits at the news conference and he joked at length with newsmen about the way he has put them off on making the announcement.

He also produced from his pocket a buckeye, considered a good luck charm in many rural areas, and said, "This is why they can't beat me."

Faubus will appear tonight on the "Face the State" television program.

Mexican Labor Can Come to Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Employment Security Division said Monday that the federal government has reversed its position and will allow use of Mexican harvest labor in Arkansas this year.

The ESD said a maximum of 5,174 workers can be hired for the cotton chopping season and 400 Mexicans will be permitted to enter Arkansas for the strawberry harvest.

The federal Bureau of Employment Security previously denied Mexican labor in Arkansas in 1964, partly because the Mexicans have been keeping domestic workers from jobs.

Arkansas users of Mexican labor made counter proposals which resulted in the decision announced Monday. ESD Administrator J. L. Bland said.

No maximum limit has been set on how many Mexican workers will be allowed during the cotton harvest.

U.S. Flights Over Cuba to Be Continued

By DANIEL HARKER

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro government Monday night rejected U.S. claims to the right to send reconnaissance planes over Cuba and warned that it will defend Cuban air space.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa signed a threatening note to the U.S. government after Washington warned that its planes will continue to fly over Cuba and that use of Soviet missiles against them would create "a highly dangerous situation."

In his note, delivered to Swiss Ambassador Emil Stadelhofer for transmission to the United States, Roa replied:

"The U.S. government would bear responsibility exclusively for creating this dangerous situation by violating national air space and ignoring international law."

"The government of Cuba does not recognize any right claimed by the U.S. government for such violation and rejects entirely its note of March 27, 1964, in which it ratifies cynically its aim to maintain these spying flights over Cuban territory."

"These blackmailing and threatening statements will not frighten the Cuban people or prevent them from defending their sovereignty and their rights."

Roa said the Cuban government "has protested repeatedly against these flagrant violations of Cuba's sovereignty and the most elementary principles of international law which endanger international peace and security."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro had warned in a speech Sunday night that Cuba would no longer tolerate violations of its sovereignty by American planes, and implied the use of force to stop such flights.

One American reconnaissance plane, a high-altitude U2, was shot down over Cuba during the October 1962 missile crisis, apparently by the same kind of missile the Russians are expected to turn over to Cuban control soon.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said Monday U.S. flights over Cuba "are a substitute for the on-sight inspection agreed to by the Soviets in October 1962, but which Fidel Castro refused to permit."

The spokesman noted that the reconnaissance flights were started before the U.S.-Soviet missile crisis, were continued to check Soviet nuclear missiles out of Cuba and will be maintained to guard against re-introduction of such missiles which could threaten the U.S. mainland.

Dies in Fire Trying to Get His Car Keys

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A man went back into his burning home to retrieve his pants and car keys today and perished in the flames.

He was Olen L. Wells, 33. "I tried to get him not to go back inside," his wife said. "I told him not to go. I begged him not to."

Mrs. Wells and their son, Wayne, 11, stood outside.

"We heard him yelling for us to come and get him but we couldn't get inside," she said. "Fire was everywhere."

The four-room house was made from two old wooden railroad box cars joined together. Windows had been cut into the cars. The family lived eight miles southwest of Jonesboro. Wells worked for a well contractor.

Mrs. Wells said she got up at 5:30 a.m. and tried to kindle a fire in a wood cookstove with a small can of kerosene. When she struck a match, she said, fire jumped into the can. She set it on the floor and the fire spread to a larger can of kerosene.

"I hollered for them to get up and we went outside," she said. Then Wells went back inside and got some clothing and a television set.

His hair was afire when he came out.

The family's old model car was parked near the house and Wells couldn't move it without the keys. He went back the second time.

Wells was a native of Van Buren. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wells of Van Buren.

Storm Brings Damage to Illinois Town

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent windstorms and thunderstorms ripped across northern and central Illinois today and damaged 75 homes in the Peoria County area.

Fire Chief Lester Manace estimated damage in the city of Peoria alone at $50,000. No injuries were reported. Several homes under construction were blown across a street into other homes. Water backed up from sewers after a rainfall of more than two inches.

Water in the streets in some section of Champaign, Ill., was more than two feet deep after a weekend of rainfall that totaled more than five inches. Rockford, Ill., got 2.32 inches in a morning thunderstorm that caused some flooding in low spots. Joliet, Ill., reported wind gusts up to 58 miles an hour.

Temperature extremes ranged from Monday's 99 at Presidio, to a morning low of 20 at Greenville, Maine. By midmorning it was in the 70s in the southern sections of Texas and Florida.

By nightfall temperatures were expected to dip below freezing from northern Minnesota through most of the Dakotas, down through western Nebraska and extreme western Kansas.

The wet and cloudy weather covered broad areas of the nation after the outbreak of violent thunderstorms and tornado winds in the central sections.

The rain and cloudy weather extended into areas of 26 states from Texas to Minnesota and from the central Rockies eastward to southern New England and the mid-Atlantic states.

Thunderstorms and showers continued during the night and early morning in sections of the Midwest and parts of the southern Plains. A thunderstorm squall line moved eastward across southwest Missouri, setting off locally heavy rain and strong winds. Funnel clouds were reported near Joplin and Nevada. Strong winds lashed Greenfield, about 35 miles northwest of Springfield, Mo.

The Weather Bureau reported tornadoes hit widely separated areas Monday in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, causing property damage. No serious injuries were reported.

Coolest weather was in parts of New England with temperatures in the upper 20s in northern Maine. They ranged to the 70s along the Gulf Coast.

nouncement which he made Monday.

What the President announced in a speech to an Associated Press luncheon in New York was "a further substantial reduction in our production of enriched uranium to be carried out over a four-year period."

He had announced an initial cutback in his State of the Union message last Jan. 8. He said Monday that the cuts he has now ordered add up to a 20 per cent decrease in plutonium output and a 40 per cent decrease in the manufacture of enriched uranium.

"By bringing production in line with need," Johnson declared in his AP speech, "we reduce tension while maintaining all necessary power."

When the President's speech was released at 2 p.m. EST the Soviet News agency Tass simultaneously released a statement that Khrushchev was halting work on two reactors designed to produce plutonium, that he would "substantially" cut back production of uranium 235 and would allocate more nuclear materials for peaceful uses.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Murphy Oil Corp. is acquiring 15 additional service stations and seven station sites in five states.

Murphy markets Spur petroleum products in 26 states, the District of Columbia and Canada from headquarters here.

John J. McClure Jr., vice president of marketing, said the properties are being purchased from Monsanto Company and are in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas. The sale is effective May 1. The purchase price was not announced.

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Residents and travelers in the Van Buren - Faulkner County area near Damascus took $4,000 worth of strawberries home with them Saturday and didn't pay a dime for them.

The strawberries were declared free goods by an insurance adjuster after the truck in which they were being hauled tumbled off a 52-foot cliff near U.S. 65, two miles south of Damascus.

State trooper Owen Philpott said the brakes failed on the 2 1/2-ton truck, causing the accident. The driver, Joe Ragland, 34, of Marshall was not injured.

THE STORY: When Domingo tells Tony Malcolm that he wouldn't "pay 10 pesos" to see Tony shoot himself, Tony asks how much Domingo would pay. Then Malcolm offers to shoot himself for a glass of brandy.

VIII

Domingo's smile grew wider then, for this game appealed to him very much; he hated dignity and self-respect in other men, and the spectacle of Malcolm on his knees begging to throw his life away filled him with excitement. A cold, pleasurable pressure grew in his stomach, as he reached into his pocket and drew out a small revolver.

"Let's be sure we understand each other," he said, and placed the gun on the table with the butt-plate pointing toward Malcolm. "I don't make deals for fun," he said, his voice falling softly across the silence in the room. Everyone in the bar stared in fascination at the gun. It was small and ugly against the green felt of the table.

"All right, I'll buy you a glass of brandy," Domingo said. "That's my end of the bargain. Then you pick up this gun and shoot yourself. You understand?"

stand? Is it clear?"

"Yes," Malcolm said, in a thick, empty voice but a smile touched his lips as he heard Domingo tell Pepe to bring a glass of Fundador to the table. He knew now that he had a price, a value. All of his dreams and hopes, the conviction he shared with all mankind that there had been something significant and eternal glowing inside this lump of clay—all of that in the truth of time was worth only a small glass of brandy.

Pepe placed the brandy on the poker table, and returned hastily to his place behind the bar.

"Enjoy it," Domingo said. "It will be your last drink."

Malcolm cupped the glass in his hands and brought it slowly to his lips, still kneeling before Domingo like a votary in the presence of a gross idol. He didn't feel the liquor on his lips or throat, but when it struck his stomach it spread warmly through his body, filling him with the unwelcome promise of strength and life.

When he replaced the empty glass on the wooden rim of the table, the faint click was like a thunderclap in the silent room. Domingo nodded deliberately toward the small gun.

"Now you owe me for the drink," he said.

Clarke laughed nervously. "It's a good joke, at that. Shows how far down hill a chap can slide, doesn't it?" His voice was dry as bone.

"Now we finish our game," Warren said, peering through the smoke at Domingo.

"Shut up," Domingo said. He stared intently at Malcolm. "I told you I don't make deals for fun."

Malcolm picked up the gun and got slowly to his feet. "Don't worry," he said.

Paco ran trembling hands across his thick lustrous black hair, and then locked them tightly together between his knees. He tried not to look at Malcolm or Domingo; his eyes rolled about in his head like those of a frightened horse.

Malcolm frowned at the gun, and then, deliberately, he placed the muzzle against his temple.

Zarren said quickly, "Don't let him do this, Domingo!"

Tani leaped to her feet and ran to Domingo's side, her high heels clattering with a sound of panic through the silence. She shook Domingo's beefy arm.

"You fool, you fool," she said. "He's going to do it. He's not joking."

Domingo disengaged her hands with a mere twitch of his shoulder, but the force of it caused her to stagger as if she had been brushed by a charging bull.

"Shoot!" Domingo said, his voice trembling with excitement.

Malcolm closed his eyes and pulled the trigger. The sound of the shot rocked through the room, and Tani screamed as Malcolm dropped to his knees, his head rolling limply on his shoulders.

Later there were interminable discussions about what had actually happened; but the only logical reconstruction was that Domingo had been watching next meeting which will be May 4th.

Representatives of the Park and Recreation Commission and the Little League Baseball organizations appeared to ask that additional funds be provided to assist in the employing of umpires for the youth baseball program. They pointed out that to be affiliated with the national organizations, the umpires must be paid. Managers and all other officials of the youth baseball program serve as volunteers.

The recreation department in the past has furnished part of the cost of umpires, but this item was left out of the budget for 1964, trying to provide funds for some additional equipment. Since the baseball organization has not been able to raise funds from contributors to take care of the entire cost, the Board of Directors voted to appropriate an additional $500 to the Park and Recreation funds to assist the expenses of umpires.

The Pilgrim Feed Company, whose feed loading operations at the old Oil Mill is occupying a part of the street right-of-way appeared in answer to some complaints about their obstructing the side walk area. They explained that a temporary walk and guard rail had been installed to provide for pedestrians, and were attempting to get the old smoke stack removed which would give them room to conduct their operations on their own property. The Board of Directors agreed to go along with the temporary arrangements until they could make the changes necessary for getting the trucks off the right-of-way.

In other action the Board of Directors approved the bid of Malcolm's slowly whitening knuckle, and had—at the instant the trigger was pulled—slapped the gun away from his temple. The bullet had gone through Malcolm's hair, furrowing his scalp lightly, and digging itself into a beam above the bar. Later, Domingo had the bullet removed, drilled a hole through it, and wore it on his watch chain.

Malcolm sat on the floor, his weight supported with one hand, sobbing softly and helplessly. Warren and Clarke stared at the top of the poker table, and the fishermen stood with their backs to him, shoulders hunched defensively, as if there was something menacing in the sound of his weak sobs. Tani sat at her table and rubbed the tips of her fingers slowly against her temples.

Files for Office

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forrest Jeffrey of Batesville, former Independence County judge, filed Monday for the 18th District position in the state Senate. Jeffrey, 33, said he had suspended publication of a newspaper for senior citizens to enter the race. The incumbent is Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton.

Woodrow Smith of Stamps for the construction of a sewage lagoon to serve the Proving Ground area. Raw sewage from this area has been going into Caney creek since the Proving Ground was abandoned. Property owners down the creek have been threatening to take some action unless the streams pollution was prohibited. The City wound up as the operator of the system in the area when it was decided to develop this as an industrial site.

Says Welfare Head Refused to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gene Wirges, former publisher of the Morrilton Democrat, said Monday that state Welfare Commissioner Jim Phillips had refused to talk to a Conway County delegation which wanted to ask help in correcting what Wirges called welfare abuses.

Wirges said Phillips refused in a telephone conference to meet with the group to hear their complaints or to answer questions.

Phillips said Monday that he would be glad to meet with Wirges to discuss his complaints but said he did not see a need for meeting with a delegation.

Phillips said he did not want to get involved in what he called a fight between Wirges and Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

Comet...World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion

At Daytona, a team of four specially equipped '64 Comets each traveled day and night 100,000 miles at over 105 miles per hour—an unequaled feat of stamina and durability.

In Africa, Comet showed its stamina again in "the wildest ride on earth"—the monsoon-swept East African Safari Rally. 94 cars started. Only 21 finished the run—two of them were Comets.

Leads the sales success parade!

Is it any surprise that Comet sales are up to almost double last year's? Comet proves what it can do. After 100,000 miles at Daytona, one of these special Comets has traveled another 31,000 and is still going strong. Then rally-equipped Comets slogged through 3,188 miles of African mud, rocks and jungle—the first to carry America's colors in the world's toughest car event. Want more reasons? Just take a look at this new Comet. Husky, racy, beautiful, and built, really built. Make tracks for a Comet at your Mercury dealer's.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. J.

The Motel Came First in Russia

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP)—In the United States, the motel followed the development of travel by private automobile. In the Soviet Union, the motel came first.

Two have been opened on the highway that encircles Moscow, just beyond the point at which prefabricated apartment houses are turning rolling farmland into suburb. More motels are planned.

They aren't exactly motel as you Americans know them. Vehicles go into a parking lot and the customers walk through the lobby and upstairs to their rooms.

The Russians have taken the American word "motel" and put it on combinations of hotel, service station and garage.

There are few private cars in the Soviet Union, and not many roads to travel. Trucks are the main highway users. Their drivers get special consideration in reservations at the motel.

Perhaps some day the present trickle of foreign visitors by automobile will swell enough to provide tourist business. At the moment the two motels are primarily used as annexes of Moscow's crowded downtown hotels.

The motels don't even have names except as affiliates of their downtown connections. But Gregori Suvorov says the motel he manages will some day be independent — "Then we have a name of our own." It is now known as the Motel on the Minsk Highway.

By the standard of many places where foreign travelers find themselves sleeping in the Soviet Union, such as airport hotels, this is a good place to stop.

Each of 95 rooms has a bathroom, which is an uncommon situation outside a few large Soviet cities. Large windows, bright pictures on the walls and rugs on the floors made the rooms attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Wylie spent Thursday in Hot Springs with Mr. and Mrs. Birkett Williams of Cleveland, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dabbs, Idabel, Okla., spent the weekend with Mrs. Mae Blackard.

Miss Elizabeth Bridewell has returned from Morrilton where she spent last week with Mrs. Charles Bridewell.

Mrs. Paul Lewis came home Sunday from a visit with relatives in Jonesboro.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Yarbrough and children, Greenville, Miss., spent Friday and Saturday here with Mrs. J. C. Broyles.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Poe, Ft. Smith, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Mouser.

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Little Rock are here attending the beside of Mrs. Williams mother, Mrs. George Green.

Engagement Announced

Miss Sondra Sharron Russell

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Russell announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Sharron to Truman Larry Coffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Coffman of Caddo Gap, Arkansas.

Miss Russell was a 1960 graduate of Hope High School and is a senior math major at Henderson State Teachers College.

Her fiancé was a 1960 graduate of Caddo Gap High School and is a Junior Business Administration major at the University of Arkansas.

The wedding will be an event of May 28, at 3 o'clock at the Walnut Street Church of Christ.

DOROTHY DIX

—HERE'S THE SWITCH, ETC.

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: My husband and I have been married for eight years. We have two lovely children and a happy family life, except for one thing. My husband gets upset with me, because I'm not jealous. He must often work late at night and I've never complained, or questioned him about it. I truly love him, and trust him, and see no reason why I should be suspicious. He says, though, that every marriage must have some jealousy in it. He says if I'm not jealous, I don't love him. Is this true, Dr. Brothers? —Mrs. H. R.

Jealousy Unnecessary

Dear Mrs. H. R.: While jealousy is a very common emotion, it is certainly not a requirement for a successful marriage. In fact, excessive jealousy in marriage can be disastrous. Jealousy is a sign of fear. In marriage, it usually is the result of a fear that you might lose your husband's love and fidelity. Since you are secure in your love for your husband, and aren't afraid of losing him, of course you're not jealous.

There are two shades of meaning for the emotion of jealousy. The first is when you have an intense desire to protect and preserve something which has great meaning to you. You are willing to defend this object against any attempt to destroy it, but at the same time you are confident that you will succeed.

For example, maybe some neighbor or relative, for some venal purpose, tries to break up your happy home. You fight against this, to preserve your family's happiness. And because you are sure of your family's love and support, you are confident of succeeding. You have often heard the phrase, "to jealously guard something." Well, this is one type of jealousy.

The Most Common Kind

The other shade of meaning is the same, to the extent that you are trying to protect and preserve something that is valuable to you. But instead of having confidence in succeeding, you are afraid that you will lose. This fear of defeat can present itself in the form of anger or hate. It is the most common form of jealousy.

We can also divide jealousy into two types on another basis. First, that jealousy which is necessary or justifiable. One which is based on observation of fact. And second, jealousy which is unnecessary, or unjustifiable. This is based, not on fact, but upon insecurity, inferiority feelings, and suspicions.

Jealousy is almost always self-defeating. For this reason alone, your husband should not feel that it is a necessary emo-

Nuclear Ships to Form a Single Unit

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, the Navy is about to form all U.S. nuclear-powered surface warships into a single carrier task group, it was learned today.

No other nation, so far as is known, is capable of sending to sea such an all-atomic naval striking force.

The Navy told The Associated Press, in response to questions, that the guided-missile cruiser Long Beach and the frigate Bainbridge will head for the Mediterranean late this month.

Once in the Mediterranean, these two atomic-propelled warships will join the 85,000-ton carrier Enterprise, already with the U.S. 6th Fleet in these waters.

Together, these three vessels represent a construction cost of nearly $1 billion.

Operating in the relatively restricted Mediterranean probably won't permit a full test of the capabilities of a carrier task force run entirely on atomic power.

These features are great speed over great distances, and very long endurance because nuclear ships are free of refueling vessels and shore bases.

Certain Navy leaders would like to put an all-atomic task tion for marriage, and is, in fact, undesirable.

The other person can only resent the lack of trust jealousy indicates. The energy a person uses up being jealous should be directed at finding a solution to the problem.

A jealous person is very likely hard to live with. The expression of jealousy includes criticism, suspicion, nagging, demands for explanation, displays of temper, moodiness, a loss of respect, attempts to dominate, to restrict freedom—any number of unpleasant and irritating behaviors.

May Be Fear

Jealousy is self-defeating, because it is often a rejection of blame. A jealous person usually says, "I'm jealous because I'm fearful and insecure." Now, why should your husband want you to be jealous? If he claims that he loves you, and that jealousy is part of love, he is saying that he himself is often jealous of you.

This means that, for some reason, he is insecure with you, and feels that your lack of jealousy is further proof of your unconcern for him.

Perhaps you are taking him for granted. You must make him feel you love him by giving him the attention and affection he needs. You must find ways to reassure him. When he is again sure of your love, he will not only stop suggesting that you be jealous—he himself will feel no need for it, in his security.

group through its paces in the wide expanses of the Pacific or the Indian Ocean.

The 14,200-ton Long Beach is at Portsmouth, Va., and the Bainbridge is at Charleston, S.C.

The Navy said the 7,600-ton Bainbridge and the Enterprise have teamed up before, and so have the Enterprise and the Long Beach, "but never all three together."

The only other U.S. nuclear surface warship under construction is the frigate Truxtum, which is to be launched in October.

The Navy has submitted strong arguments for construction of more atomic warships, but so far the high cost has stood in the way.

The first three American nuclear warships were completed after their costs spiraled. The Enterprise cost $474 million, the Long Beach nearly $330 million and the Bainbridge more than $160 million.

Part of these high prices were attributable to the three ships being the first of their kind under atomic power.

OF LOVE and DESIRE

CHATTER

By "BILL"

A recent article on the woman's page of the Sunday paper had as a bold caption... "Middle Age Can Be Interesting For Women."

It goes on to tell you what to do and not to do... all of which adds up to the fact that if you are neat appearing, uncomplaining, see your doctor regularly, baby-sit with the grandchildren, get yourself a lobby, join a few clubs, travel as often as possible, be a pal instead of a mother-in-law and a number of other things, you will have a chance to grow old gracefully. Oh, yes, romance can be had too!

No doubt this is very well meaning advice, but as usual there are a few practical things left unsaid. For instance, how do you pluck your eyebrows with glasses on? Why doesn't somebody pass a law that telephone directories be printed in large black print? How about doing away with stairs altogether; escalators even in a one story building would be such an improvement. You can jarve yourself on the diet recommended, probably haven't gained a pound in ten years, but for some reason your weight has shifted. In some places you have excess and in others shrinkage... how about this?

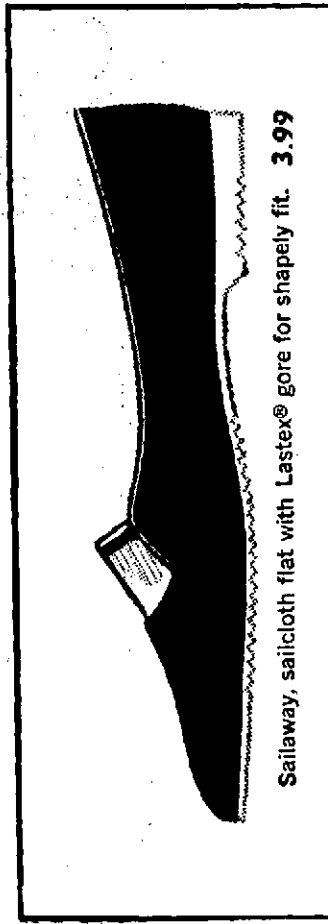

Well, there you are and here we are, and we prefer to agree with the song writers; just stay young at heart, and you will not have to worry!

And always remember, we can help you at Raley's Style Shoppe. Clothes are no longer a question of age; if a garment fits and is proportioned for you, it will look well.

We would like to show you some of our custom-size dresses. The Jeannie Durrell Petties designed by Kohen Ligon — Folz of Dallas. Slightly shorter waisted, a little more hip room and SO smartly styled, both in dresses and costume suits. A Mann-Mate by Jack Mann in one — and two-piece styles priced from $19.95 to $25.95. And you will love Parklands custom sizes in many fabrics. See them all today at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Fastest Team in History of the Mets
By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Oh, those grand, glorious, no-longer-gruesome Mets.
They've played five games and already they've won one. This is the fastest-breaking team in Met history.
The original Mets lost their first nine games in 1962. Last year's National League entry in New York lost its first eight.
No wonder the fans are flocking to their snazzy, new 55,300-seat stadium.
Deliriously happy, 30,185 Met-nicks screamed themselves hoarse at Shea Stadium Sunday as their favorites knocked Pittsburgh out of first place with an astonishing 6-0 victory.
This figure boosted the three-day home attendance to 110,104, nearly three times the number of people who watched the Mets lose their first three games at the Polo Grounds last year.
Rain forced postponement of the scheduled game with the Philadelphia Phillies Monday.
Sunday's shutout was tuned in by Alvin Jackson. The little southpaw led the Met pitchers with 13 victories last year but had nary a shutout.
Manager Casey Stengel shook up his line-up Sunday, benching shortstop Amado Samuel for Al Moran, inserting Rod Kanehl at third and switching Ron Hunt from third to second base, where he played all last year.
It was Casey's fifth different line-up in five games, par for the course. And it produced the best of all. The team accumulated 13 hits, including doubles by D. Smith, Jo Christopher and Hunt.
The boys are now batting .291 as a team, which is astounding when you consider they didn't get above .220 last year.

It operates in Arkansas, Lonoke, Clay, Randolph, White and Prairie counties; at Jacksonville and at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

Thinks Pro Golf Might Need a Czar
By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Does professional golf need a czar?
Many of the tournament players, including Arnold Palmer, insist that it does. Warren Cantrell, newly elected president of the Professional Golfers Association, argues not.
Almost all, players and executives alike, agree there is need for administrative revision, a stronger, firmer hand in the guiding of the game's destinies.
"We simply have grown too fast," says Cantrell, a Texas businessman. "We rocked along and looked up suddenly to find ourselves surrounded with a multimillion-dollar enterprise."
"To keep pace, we need to adopt modern business methods."

The PGA, with a membership of more than 5,000 teaching and touring pros, moves into its new $4-million headquarters on this Florida gold coast within the next few weeks, plagued by numerous problems.
There is still some quibbling about how to pay for the $1.5-million brick and glass clubhouse which sits astride two 18-hole championship courses.
Sponsors and players are involved in a bitter dispute over who should control the mushrooming television monies.
The $2.5-million tour is getting so crowded that there are suggestions that it must be broken into two circuits, a major and minor league.
There is some agitation - quite minor at this stage - for making the tour a self-supporting project, free from PGA control.
At the moment, the biggest question involves that of a czar or a strong single executive to run the whole show.
"We need a man like the late Kennesaw Mountain Landis in baseball," says Dow Finsterwald. "He should be a man with a knowledge of all phases of the game and with unquestioned integrity."
Palmer, the sport's all-time leading money winner, agrees. "I would like to see a fellow like Joe Dey (executive director of the U. S. Golf Association) take over," Arnie says. "We players are not in a position to govern ourselves."
The PGA policies are made

Dodgers and Yankees Just Keep Losing

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

As things stand today, the Los Angeles Dodgers are just a shade worse than the New York Yankees.

But then they've had more time to work at it.

The Dodgers maintained their edge Monday, but not without some difficulty. They collected five hits and scored a run off Bob Sadowski while losing to Milwaukee 7-1 and running their longest losing streak in two years to six games.

The Yankees, meanwhile, tried to catch up but failed. They didn't score but they did stroke nine hits before losing to Boston 4-0. They might have had a better chance if the other half of the Patriots' Day double-header at Boston hadn't been rained out.

The Dodgers' edge, however, stems from the fact they've played more games. Each team has won one game, but the Dodgers have squeezed in six losses to the Yankees' four.

The Dodgers, in the National League cellar one game behind the New York Mets and four behind leading Philadelphia and San Francisco, have scored only 14 runs in seven games and three in the last 35 innings. They've collected only 50 hits, for a .213 batting average.

The Yankees, in the American League cellar one-half game behind the Washington Senators and three behind front-running Baltimore, have scored 12 runs in five games. But they've col-

State Loses to Memphis State

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Memphis State posted a 5-3 baseball victory over Arkansas State here Monday, and Indian pitcher Ivan Jackson will probably have a hard time forgetting one nightmarish inning.

Arkansas state had a 1-0 lead going into the seventh, but the Tigers chalked up four unearned runs that were enough to win. Here's how the four runs came—a single, two errors by Jackson on bunts, a balk, a passed ball, and infield out and another single.

George Glenn doubled in two runs for the Indians in the bottom of the seventh, and Memphis State added an insurance run in the ninth. The winning pitcher was Kirby Ellis.

Memphis State is 16-4 for the year, and the Indians are 8-14. Memphis 000 000 401-5 8-1 Ark. State 001 000 200-3 7-7 Ellis, Keenan (7) and Holt, Jackson and Webb.

lected 41 hits for a .216 batting average.

The biggest hitting show of the day was put on at Houston, where Nellie Fox drove in four runs with a single and triple in the Colts' 7-1 victory over St. Louis. In the only other game played, Bob Skinner's error gave San Francisco two eighth-inning runs and a 5-2 triumph over Cincinnati.

The Chicago at Baltimore and Philadelphia at New York Mets games also were rained out. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Sadowski had retired 21 Dodgers in a row when they finally scored in the ninth on a single by Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly's triple. Gene Oliver stroked three hits for the Braves, Lee Maye hit a homer and Frank Bollins drove in three runs with two run-scoring singles and a bases-loaded walk. Nick Willhite was the loser.

Bill Monbouquette, who allowed seven hits before leaving after eight innings because of arm trouble, and Dick Radatz combined to shut out the Yankees. Dick Stuart drove in two runs for the Red Sox with a pair of singles and rookie Tony Conigliaro hit his second homer of the season. Rookie Bob Meyer took the loss.

Travelers Win Again Over Seattle

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers won their third straight Pacific Coast League baseball game Monday night with a 2-1 victory over the Seattle Rainiers.

Seattle came into the game as the only unbeaten PCL team. Rookie Len Clendenin became the first Traveler hurler to go nine innings this year, and held Seattle to five hits. His shutout was ruined by an infield single in the fifth inning, which scored Stan Johnson, who had tripled.

The Travelers lost their first two games to Portland, then swept a doubleheader from the Beavers Sunday.

Third baseman Wayne Graham, who hit two homers in the second game Sunday, put the Travelers ahead with a home run in the fourth.

Arkansas' game-winning run came in the eighth. With the bases loaded, Pat Corrales grounded to shortstop Rico Petrecci, who threw to second for the force. Bill Sorrell, who had been on second, left the bag, came back, then stepped off again and was tagged out. Adolph Phillips scored from third.

Wilt Fights But Celtics Make Scores

By ED TUNSTALL
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP)—For San Francisco Coach Alex Hannum it looks like a seven-game series. Boston center Bill Russell wishes there were no games left. And big Clyde Lovellette of the Celtics is just waiting for the bell to ring for the second round.

Out of these conflicting opinions rises the fact that the Celtics now lead two games to none in the championship National Basketball Association playoffs by virtue of Monday night's 124-101 romp over the Warriors. Games No. 3 and 4 are on tap in San Francisco on Wednesday and Friday nights.

The game's the thing, but Monday night it almost got it in the shuffle, or rather, the scuffle.

The near free-for-all erupted just after the fourth period opened with the Celtics holding a 31-point advantage at 104-73. Lovellette fouled Wilt Chamberlain, the two exchanged viewpoints and, whammo! Chamberlain's right shot out and Lovellette dropped to his knees.

Players from both benches flooded the floor, but just as quickly appeared the boys in blue and order returned to the Boston Garden.

Boston Coach Red Auerbach was fuming and had to be pulled back to the bench by Russell.

Chamberlain had little to say of the incident after the game except to imply there had been due provocation by Lovellette. Lovellette, with a cherry-red mark on his upper lip, said, "All of a sudden, boom, and I was down. I don't know what caused it. Maybe he was sore about being behind by 30 points. But it's no disgrace to be decked by a 7-foot-2, 290-pounder."

"I play Wilt a lot closer than Russell," big Clyde continued. "But I have to. I can't jump like Russell. But I've played him like that before and if he knocks me down 10 times, I'll still play him like that."

Auerbach explained he was sore because Wilt was not disqualified. The Boston coach said the disqualification is mandatory when a player tosses a punch.

Russell said he was "real tired" and that he wishes the series was down to the final game or else over completely. Statistically, the only bright light for the Warriors was Chamberlain's 32 points which led all scorers. Sam Jones with 31 was tops for the Celtics.

Kentucky Placed on Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

Those extra conditioning sessions that helped cost the University of Kentucky nearly half of its 1962 football team are costing the 1964 squad any chance to play in a bowl game.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association put the school on one-year probation Monday. The only sanction is against post-season football. Slippery Rock of Pennsylvania and Prairie View A&M of Texas drew the same penalties for playing in non-sanctioned bowl games last year.

The NCAA took Indiana University, University of Colorado and New Mexico State off the probation list—the latter nine months earlier than expected.

The NCAA Council said Kentucky "violated provisions governing out-of-season football practice in that during late winters and early springs of 1962 and 1963, its football coaches conducted physical conditioning programs for all student athletes' planning to play football."

Attendance was required. Charlie Bradshaw was in his first year as head coach in 1962. After eight weeks of conditioning and before spring practice was even a week old, numerous players quit.

More followed until the original squad of 68 was reduced to less than 40 by the end of the 1962 season. The daily conditioning included weight lifting, calisthenics and running—but coaches were careful not to have footballs on hand.

Some of the players who quit gave up their grants-in-aid. The council said the school gave the players form letters to sign

19.8 Million Fishermen in the U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of 19,831,644 fishermen and 13,999,375 hunters bought state licenses to pursue their favorite sports during the year ended June 30, the Interior Department reported today.

The licenses cost the fishermen and hunters nearly $126 million. There was no way to as their "voluntary" letters of resignation from the grant program.

It called this procedure "questionable" and said it "reflected poorly on the general administration of intercollegiate athletics."

NCAA executive director Walter Byers said the Southeastern Conference had advised Kentucky the conditioning program was legal.

"The NCAA Council is of the opinion that the university did not intend to do wrong, however in fact, the activity violated NCAA rules two successive years," said Byers.

New Mexico State won early reinstatement from its three-year probation because the school introduced new evidence reportedly showing fewer students were involved in admissions irregularities than at first believed.

Colorado, banned from post-season football during its two-year probation, was rapped in 1962 for recruiting irregularities exposed in the Sonny Grandelius case. Grandelius, the football coach, was fired.

Indiana served a more serious probation lasting four years during which it could not compete in post-season football games, championship tournaments in other sports, or in invitational affairs.

tell how many individuals bought licenses in more than one state.

The number of licensed fishermen increased by 428,179 over those in 1962, with the cost of the licenses going up by $3,617,096 to a total of $57,780,259.

Licensed hunters reported by the states numbered 245,012 more than in 1962 and license costs increased $4,122,225 to a record high of $68,102,023.

The 50 state game and fish departments provide license-holder and sales information to the department as a basis for distributing federal aid funds for fish and wildlife restoration projects. Some states require the purchase of separate licenses, stamps, permits or tags for taking different kinds of fish or game.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Amazing how little it costs to put a roof over your head

Amazing? Most people are downright flabbergasted the first time they check out a new compact Dart convert. Pop goes the top. But the price just sits there low and easy to take.

It's even more amazing when you consider all that makes a Dart a Dart. Room, for instance. Size it up with knees, head, elbows, or luggage. You'll find large economy-size room—as much stretch-out and load space as in many standard-size cars. And there's large economy-size power to go with it... from a 170 cu. in. standard Six to an optional gunge-no 273 V8.

Amazing? You bet. It's what happens when a quality car maker builds a compact bigger and quicker and then tops it off with such good looks.
